

Carol Ann Johnson

Carol Ann Johnson, 72, of Yakima died February 2, 2014 at Harborview Medical Center in Seattle, WA. Mrs. Johnson was born April 12, 1941 in Pasco, WA, daughter of David B. and Beryl I. Coulson of Finley, WA, both of whom preceded her in death. She grew up in Finley and Centralia. Thirty five years ago on October 28, 1978 she married Philip D "PJ" Johnson in Yakima where they have resided. She lived most of her life in Washington, having worked in restaurants, furniture sales and motel management. She adored her grandchildren and great-grandchildren. She was an avid seamstress and enjoyed cooking and genealogy. Her immediate and extended family loved her home-made pies. We will all remember her sense of humor, her sassiness and for being known to always fearlessly speak her mind.

Her only child, David Scott Pooler, born April 4, 1958, preceded her in death September 24, 2005.

Survivors include her husband, Philip Dean "PJ" Johnson of Yakima, daughter-in-law Luciana Anna Herrera of Arizona, two grandchildren, Christopher Grant Pooler and Cierra Paige Pooler, both of Walla Walla. Five great-grandchildren also survive: Christopher Grant Pooler Jr, Tearsa Laree Pooler, Natalie Rose Cisneros, Suriana Aniese Cisneros and Lakota Quinn Martinez, all of Walla Walla, four step-children, Joleen Rae (Kyle) Gagnon of Fife, WA, Dwain "Hoss" Johnson of Federal Way, WA, Scott Blain Johnson of Puyallup, WA, Shawn (Tracy) Johnson of Tahuya, WA and their families plus numerous nieces and nephews. Four siblings survive: David E (Denise) Coulson of Yakima, Robert L (Ollie) Coulson of Kennewick, Charles D (Karen) Coulson of Olympia and Kathleen Kay (Dee) Holmes of Olympia.

A memorial gathering will be held at Harman Center, Yakima, March 1, 2014 at 2 PM.
